ON PAGE 71 SOUMA-SAMA REFERES TO "THE CANARY WHO FORGOT HIS SONG" - HE IS REFERRING TO THE CHILDRENS SONG AS YOU CAN SEE BELOW. IT'S SOMETHING MOST JAPANESE KIDS LEARN IN CHILDHOOD, SO WE FIGURED YOU MIGHT LIKE TO KNOW IT TOO. AS AN EXTRA BONUS; HERE ARE THE LYRICS TO THE SONG TAGAMI PLAYS AT THE END.

THE CANARY

THE CANARY WHO FORGOT HIS SONG,
SHALL WE CAST HIM OFF ON THE MOUNTAIN?
NO, NO, LET'S NOT DO THAT

THE CANARY WHO FORGOT HIS SONG,
SHALL WE BURY HIM IN THE GROVE BY THE BACK DOOR?
NO, NO, LET'S NOT DO THAT

THE CANARY WHO FORGOT HIS SONG,
SHALL WE HIT HIM WITH A WILLOW SPRIG?
NO, NO, THAT'S TOO CRUEL

BUT IN A SHIP OF IVORY, WITH SILVER OARS
FLOATING IN THE MOONLIT SEA,
THE CANARY WHO FORGOT HIS SONG
WILL REMEMBER THE SONG HE HAD FORGOT

-SAIJOU YASO

ODE TO EARLY SPRING

THE WIND IS COLD, AND SPRING IN NAME ONLY
THE BUSH WARBLER IN THE VALLEY THINKS OF A SONG
BUT IT'S NOT YET TIME, AND HE WILL NOT RAISE HIS VOICE
BUT IT'S NOT YET TIME, AND HE WILL NOT RAISE HIS VOICE

AS ICE THAWS AND MELTS, REEDS PUSH OUT
THINKING IT SPRING AT LAST, BUT NOT YET DOES IT COME
TODAY, AS YESTERDAY, THE SKY WILL SNOW
TODAY, AS YESTERDAY, THE SKY WILL SNOW

HAD I NOT HEARD IT'S SPRING, I WOULD NOT KNOW IT
BUT JUST HEARING OF IT, MY CHEST SWELLS WITH LONGING
HOW CAN I QUELL THE WISTFULLNESS THIS TIME BRINGS

この衝撃、この波紋は、もう誰にも止められない…!!

2人の愛憎の深淵は、
新たなる闇を覗き始める…!!

これは幻影ではない
この一瞬、激しく僕に絡みつく、理不尽な運命
僕はもう何処へも戻れない
何処へも辿り着けない
余りにも不可逆的な 僕の絶望への道程

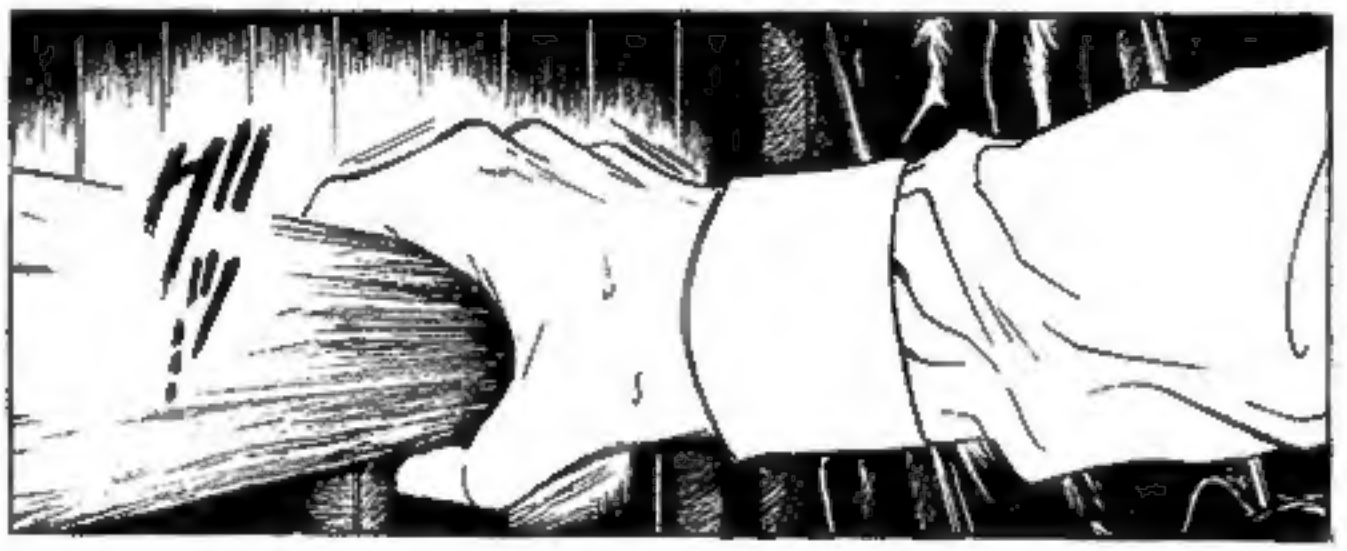
One that I'm afraid I'll remember all my life, a painful, frightening, sad dream

That day, I had a dream



The dream kept on tearing my body and soul apart

And even after I opened my eyes

IF YOUR ARM HURTS THAT BAD, WE SHOULD HAVE DOCTOR KATSURAGI COME OVER——
IT'S BEEN THREE DAYS ALREADY THAT YOU'VE BEEN HOLED UP IN THERE, NOT EVEN GOING TO CLASSES...

春宵余話 第5回

“人形ではなく、人として―”。純粋であるがゆえに凶器のような蒼磨の思慕は、正崇を追い詰める刃となった。そして正崇の拒絶も、また、蒼磨の心を容赦なく斬り裂いてしまう。

傷つけ合って往く先は――崩壊？

想いを交わさず招いた悲劇

蒼磨が焦がれたのは、無垢なる温もりだった。たあいのない、触れ合い。それは体と体ではなく、心と心の間で交わされるもの。…とうの昔に、諦めたはずのものだった。しかしふいに手にした正崇のあたたかさは手放しがたく、それが正崇を踏みにじる行為と理解しつつも、縋るしかできない。正崇も混乱と絶望から、蒼磨を拒絶する。求める「心」から互いに目をそらし続けた結果、事態は最悪の展開に…。

▶▼正崇は蒼磨の、蒼磨は正崇の心を尊重していた。身分や立場の差を超えて、2人の絆はたしかに結ばれつつあったが…。

人物&物語 POINT

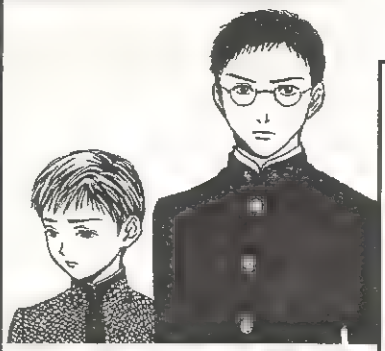
櫻子と葛城の繋がり 静かなる謀

蒼磨と正崇がもがき苦しむ影で、恐るべき計画が淡々と進められていた。櫻子と葛城が、当主である斎木侯爵の命を縮めるべく策を弄する。

葛城知彦

蒼磨の過去を知る 斎木家主治医

父と親子二代に渡る医師。10年程前は斎木家の書生として過ごし、その後は同家の主治医を務めている。そのため斎木家の内情に詳しく、蒼磨との関係も深い。特に蒼磨に対しては、理解者として振る舞う一方、歪んだ独占欲をあらわにすることも…。



▲▶ずっと蒼磨とともにあるという強烈な自負心を持ち、自らの存在の重さを刷り込むように囁く。

◀医師という立場を利用して、平然と櫻子の企みに加担する。櫻子から蒼磨に対する害意を指摘されても表情は動じず、その真意は計り知れない。

人物設定画／葛城知彦

▶年齢は20代後半で、刈り上げた短髪と、丸眼鏡が特徴的。表情が大きく動くことはあまりなく、余裕のある笑みや他人をやや見下すような表情が多い。

国力の底上げをめざした近代教育制度

「国民皆学」の精神とエリート教育

全国の教育行政を統括する文部省が明治4年に設置され、西洋流の教育制度がスタートした。身分・男女の区別なく就学を奨励し、大正4年には小学校の就学率がほぼ100%に達する。一方で、帝大など高等教育機関に進めるのは、ごく少数のエリートのみであった。

◀明治末期から大正にかけて就学率が上がり、受験戦争が激化した。

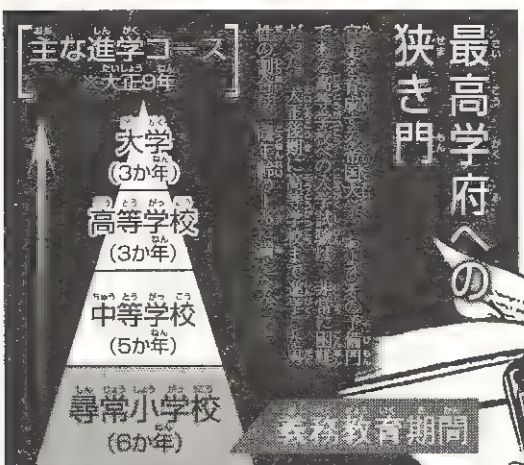
▶学年の始期が4月1日になったのは、大正10年度から。

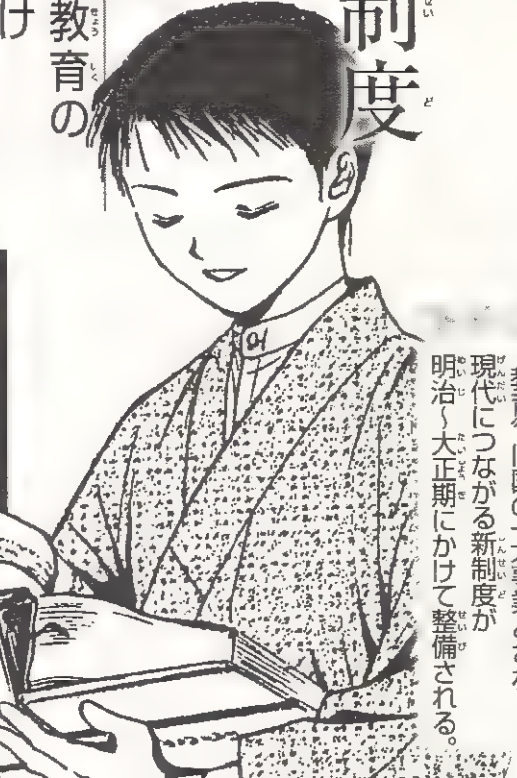
一 義務教育の幕開け

明治19年、初代文部大臣森有礼は、学校体系の基本となる4種（小学校、中学校、大学、師範学校）の制度を規定した学校令を公布した。このときの「小学校令」で、はじめて"義務教育"という言葉が用いられ、就学の義務を明らかにした。

二 大学の予備門

明治27年に公布された高等学校令では、高等中学校を「高等学校」と改称し、専門学科のほかに大学予科を設置することを認めた。のちに、明治期に創設された一～八高は、「ナンバースクール」と呼ばれ、エリート校としての名声を誇った。





明治新政府は、欧米列強に対抗しうる人材の育成を急務とした。"教育"は国の一大事業とされ、現代につながる新制度が明治～大正期にかけて整備される。

CHAPTER NOTES; LONG, BUT IMPORTANT-
THIS PAGE IS REGARDING THE POEMS CONTAINED IN THIS CHAPTER.
BELOW YOU WILL FIND THREE DIFFERENT TAKES ON EACH POEM WITH OUR BEST GUESS FOR WATASE'S MEANING IN BOLD.
THE ONES IN BOLD WERE ALSO USED FOR THE IN-MANGA TRANSLATIONS.
WHILE MASATAKA (SEE BUBBLE 4, PAGE 27) READS A "MODERN" JAPANESE TRANSLATION OF THE POEM, NOT SEEN HERE
PLEASE READ IF YOU WOULD LIKE TO GET A BETTER UNDERSTANDING OF THE STORY.

p.27
Poem 1. (13) Yozei In – (868-949) Retired emperor Yozei, reigned from 876 to 884
Sponsored many poetry contests. "My secret feelings for you amass, and now grow deep"

Poem 2. (43.) Fujiwara no Atsutada – Middle counsellor Atsutada (906-943) was a distinguished poet, one of the Thirty-Six Poetic Immortals (sanjuurokkasen) "How painful it is, that after having been with you, rather than diminish, these feelings have deepened"

Poem 3 (14) Kawara Sadaijin – Minamoto no Toru (822-895) was also one of the Thirty-Six Poetic Immortals. Prince Genji from Murasaki Shikibus Tale of Genji (Genji Monogatari) may have been partly based on him. His moniker "riverbank minister of the left" is derived from h s mansion built on the left bank of river Kamo. "It is because of you that I have become muddled with love, and cannot but worry"

Poem 4. (49.) Onakatomi no Yoshinobu – Yoshinobu (921-991) was one of the Five Gentlemen of the Pear Chamber (nashitsubo no gonin), the compilers of the imperial anthology Gosenshu or Gosen Wakashu in 951.
"Day and night I fret, this is how painful this love is"

p. 28
Poem 5 (90) Inpumon In no Tayu (between 1131 and 1200) was a lady in waiting for princess Ryoshi and a distinguished poetess. Associated with the poetic circle that gathered at Shun'es mansion "the garden in the poetic forest" (karin'en). In classical poetry, the wetting of sleeves signified great sadness. "However much my feelings grow, you remain cold"

Poem 6. (51.) Fujiwara no Sanekata – (approx. 950-994) was one of the Late Classical Thirty-Six Poetic Immortals (chuuko sanjuurokkasen). "I only want to tell you of this burning love"

13. Mostow
Like the Mina River
that falls from the peak
of Mount Tsukuba,
so my longing has collected and turned into deep pools.

13. Porter
The Mina stream comes tumbling down
From Mount Tsukuba's height;
Strong as my love, it leaps into
A pool as black as night
With overwhelming might.

13. McCauley
From Tsukuba's peak,
Falling waters have become
Mina's still, full flow:
So my love has grown to be;
Like the river's quiet deeps.

43. Mostow
When compared to the feelings in my heart
after we'd met and loved,
I realize that in the past
I had no cares at all.

43. Porter
How desolate my former life,
Those dismal years, ere yet
I chanced to see thee face to face
'Twere better to forget
Those days before we met.

43. McCauley
Having met my love,
Afterwards my passion was,
When I measured it
With the feeling of the past,
As, if then, I had not loved.

14. Mostow
Whose fault is it that my feelings have begun to tangle like the tangle-patterned prints of Shinobu of the distant north?
Since it is not mine, it must be...

14. Porter
Ah why does love distract my thoughts,
Disordering my will?
I'm like the pattern on the cloth
Of Michinoku hill,--
All in confusion still.

14. McCauley
Michinoku print
Of shinobu's tangled leaves!
For whose sake have I,
Like confused, begun to be?
Only yours! I can not change!

49. Mostow
Like the fire of the guardsman kindles, guarding the imperial gates
at night, burning,
in the day exhausted,
over and over, so I long for her.

49. Porter
My constancy to her I love
I never will forsake;
As surely as the Palace Guards
Each night their watch-fire make
And guard it till daybreak.

49. McCauley
Like the warder's fires
At the Imperial gateway kept,--
Burning through the night,
Through the day in ashes dulled,--
Is the love aglow in me.

90. Mostow
How I'd like to show him!
The sleeves of the fishermen
of Male island,
when it comes to wet, are wet indeed,
But their color doesn't change!

90. Porter
The fisher's clothes, though cheap, withstand
The drenching they receive;
But see I my floods of tears have blurred
The colours of my sleeve,
As for thy love I grieve.

90. McCauley
Let me show him these!
E'en the fisherwomen's sleeves
On Ojima's shores,
Though wet through and wet again,
Do not change their dyer's hues.

51. Mostow
Can I even say
"I love you this much"?--No, and so you do not know of it anymore than the sashimo grasses of Ibuki, my burning love for you!

51 Porter
Though love, like blisters made from leaves
Grown on Mount Ibuki,
Torments me more than I can say,
My lady shall not see,
How she is paining me.

51 McCauley
That, 'tis as it is,
How can I make known to her?
So, she may n'er know
That the love I feel for her
Like Ibuki's moxa burns.

CHAPTER NOTES; LONG, BUT IMPORTANT–
THESE ARE THE GENERAL NOTES, THE NEXT PAGE INCLUDES ALL DIFFERENT POEMS, TRANSLATIONS AND EXPLANATIONS.

p. 16 The One Hundred Poets – (Ogura Hyakunin Isshu) The Ogura Hyakunin Isshu, compiled by the influential poet and scholar Fujiwara no Teika (Fujiwara Sadaie) takes its name from having been compiled while Teika was residing at Mt. Ogura around 1239. Though there are other such anthologies comprising of hundred poems by a hundred poets, this anthology is usually referred to only as Hyakunin Isshu because it's widely thought to be the most definitive.

p. 16 Poetry competitions – On page 17, panel 1, guests are seen playing Uta-garuta, a game based on the poems of Hyakunin Isshu that's traditionally played at New Years parties. There are cards that have the whole poems and cards with only the last lines. The cards with the last lines, called the torifuda ("taking cards"), are laid out in front of the players. A reader reads the poem aloud from the yomifuda ("reading cards"), and players try to find the corresponding torifuda as quickly as possible. There are different games based on this principle. Uta-garuta can be played with individual players or teams.

p. 29 Homosexuality – Although Japan had a long history of institutionalized homosexuality, i.e. homosexual practises that weren't dependent on actual orientation toward homosexuality, the influence from the West —particularly that of German sexology— quickly changed the social atmosphere hostile toward these practises in the Meiji era. By 1920 the term doseiai ('same-sex love') was standardized as a translation equivalent for 'homosexuality'. Though the appellation seems neutral, the practise of same-sex love was implicitly characterized as abnormal.

Male-male anal intercourse was first illegalized in the 1873 legal amendment. The sentence for both parties was 90 days of penal servitude and in the case of nobility could lead to the loss of rank. For anal rape the sentence was 10 years. The 1880 penal code and its 1907 successor, however, legalized consensual anal intercourse between men, although it was viewed as immoral and obscene. Anal intercourse with minors as well as coerced intercourse and rape were still punishable by law, but the maximum punishment under the 1880 law for rape was only 2 years in jail. The 1907 penal code raised the maximum sentence to 7 years.

p. 63 Boy prostitutes – The phrase used is "iroko of the kagema". In the Edo era kagema were ostensibly young kabuki actors in training, who hadn't yet been on the stage. Their appellation derives from their being "in the shadow of the stage". Kagema worked from the kagemajaya, or kagema tea houses in the Yoshicho pleasure quarters, and catered to a clientele of both men and women. Iroko is another name for the kagema, one that focuses less on their role as apprentice kabuki performers and more as prostitutes. The kagemajaya along with all other male prostitution were abolished during the Meiji era. However, around the 1920's, Asakusa park in Tokyo became a popular cruising spot for homosexuals, and young men cruising there were called "the new kagema" in the media.
